State Health Notes

Source: National Conference of State Legislatures, May 7, 2001

In this Issue:

Cover Story – In the Internet age, confidential medical files can be transmitted in a wink. New federal rules seek to protect patient privacy, but states are debating reforms that go even further, closing loopholes and imposing financial sanctions.

Behavioral Health Notes – Substance abuse takes a high toll, in human and financial terms. Three recent resources shed light on various aspects of the problem.

Highlights – “Code Blue” for IL Medicaid...Medicaid drug rebates...IA after welfare reform...Doctor discipline survey...Infants & Rx drug errors...Patient safety task force...DC mental health initiative...Rx drug abuse study...STDs in ME, OH...Gun deaths...CA nursing home review...Help for caregivers.

Tracking Trends – As the tobacco settlement money comes rolling in, states are looking at a variety of financial strategies.

Ideas & Innovations – San Francisco General Hospital is on the cutting edge of a response to domestic violence: training its staff to recognize and intervene.

For more information, contact NCSL at (303) 830-2200.

FINAL

State Health Notes

Source: National Conference of State Legislatures, May 21, 2001

In this Issue:

Cover Story – Pain is often ignored, in part because medical professionals are not trained to treat it, in part because patients fear becoming addicted to narcotic drugs. As the end-of-life movement gains momentum, however, management of pain is getting greater attention.

StateSpeak – Patient safety issues, overflowing ERs and a nursing shortage have made it an especially busy year for Massachusetts Sen. Richard Moore.

Highlights – MI information system...HCFA, close up...Residents' hours...ER closure study...Nonfatal injuries...Exercise for the elderly...Suicide prevention...UNC study on kids and snack foods...CDC birth defects center...Women's heart center...Rx drug cost study...CT suit vs. online pharmacy "outlaws."

Tracking Trends – The assisted living industry is growing by leaps and bounds, and state regulations are keeping pace.

Medicaid Monitor – Wisconsin's Family Care program has gotten good reviews. In the District of Columbia, officials are looking at a modified version of the program for the elderly, disabled.

For more information, contact NCSL at (303) 830-2200.

State Health Notes

Source: National Conference of State Legislatures, June 4, 2001

In this Issue:

Cover Story – Congress hasn't yet acted on a Medicare drug benefit, leaving states as the target of constituents' ire over rising prices. In response, states are looking to expand coverage and ease cost pressures. Notes looks at two ambitious programs.

Focus On – Though not a new problem, the plight of abandoned newborns is prompting a rush of "safe haven" laws. What's motivating states?

Highlights – Uninsured moms...Web data tool...MA pharmacy benefit contract...OxyContin abuse...NJ Rx drug assistance program...Cholesterol guidelines...Stroke awareness...NJ AED project...SD seat belt campaign...CSU alcohol policy...Caregiver center...FL nursing home reforms

Tracking Trends – The nurse shortage is bad and getting worse. States are seeking ways to recruit and retain nurses.

Ideas & Innovations – A group of 73 Philadelphia-area hospitals is banding together on a 16-step initiative to reduce the incidence of medication errors.

For more information, contact NCSL at (303) 830-2200.

State Health Notes

Source: National Conference of State Legislatures, June 18, 2001

In this Issue:

Cover Story – Although blood lead levels are significantly lower than 15 years ago, 1.7 million kids—a majority of them poor—remain at risk for lead poisoning. Screening and treatment are spotty, but states are working to improve tracking, education efforts.

Highlights – OR patients' rights law...Teen pregnancy prevention...Mental health report...Physical restraints in IL...AZ antismoking campaign.

FYI – A new feature—For Your Information—replaces Medicaid Monitor and Ideas & Innovations. The first looks at a program to improve birth outcomes among poor women.

Feature Article – While scientists and public health officials see a link between chronic diseases and the environment, the nation still has no comprehensive system to monitor the situation.

Health Talk – Shelley Hearne, executive director of Trust for America's Health, wants a nationwide network to track environmental factors in diseases.

FINAL

Vital Signs – By the numbers: a look at chronic diseases, environmental pollutants that may have an interconnection.
